ABOUT

SubDocta exploded onto the scene in 2017 with his wildly successful single "2009 Was Tight", catching major support from a number of heavy hitters, including Bassnectar and Ganja White Night.

SubDocta is most know for producing his own brand of hybrid dubstep that he has 'so eloquently' dubbed "West Coast Wobble," paying tribute to his upbringing on the West Coast. In 2018, SubDocta's music released on Fresh Blood, Borgore's new imprint, as well as SubCarbon, Ganja White Night's imprint, whom he has now officially inked a deal with after the release of his debut EP on the label.

In addition, SubDocta also toured as support for Zomboy, Ganja White Night, Riot Ten, Dirt Monkey, Opiuo, and others in 2018, while hitting some of the most sought after bass festivals in the US and Canada.
